1. Note: Grandfather J. F. Querkson, in his post-script to Wm. Menno Gaede, made much of the "grace of God." My father told me of an incident related to him by Grandfather of a boy and a girl whose parents had died (in the "old country"). They were adopted by different families; and they lost track of each other. Then they met and fell in love, and they married (not knowing that they were brother and sister). Their marriage was a good marriage, and their children were all normal. Grandfather said, "That is the grace of God."

2. Note: I have tried to faithfully translate this family history of ours written originally in German. (Note the broken and incomplete sentences and the inconsistent punctuation.) I have had to do this by installments, which even then made me very tired both mentally and physically. This is my first "major" length of writing since my mild stroke in August, last year, But I enjoyed doing it.

—Marcellus Querkson (Grandson to J. F. Querkson) to Johann Nikkel at or in Hillsboro, Kansas.

2. Johann Duerksen, to America 1875. Marion County, Kansas. He had a strong family and much land. God blessed this family in a special way. They were pious farmer-people like most of our generations.
Uncle John died very suddenly, apparently just before eating supper at the table.

3. Peter Duerksen, lived in Elizabethtal, Russia. Was a miller and made flour; had a windmill and a treadmill, and was a good farmer. Has been married twice and has died in Nikelaiderf. of dropsy in a good old age. His Cornelius Querkseu, a very strong and lively man lived in Rudnorweide and on the Don-side on the land, was converted to God, wandered out to America and lived in Hillsboro, Kansas, then in California, he became an Adventist. Most of his children live at Shafter, California, apparently all are farmers.

5. Jakob J. Querkseu married to Katherina Funk, lived in Alexandertal; he really wanted to become a tailor, but became miller with a small plot of land, and it went well with them. He sold his business and moved on a half allotment in acreage of land, and in every respect, the time was very hard for our parents. In the year 1884 they wandered out to America, Marion County, Kansas. Our mother died. - She had a great deal of rheumatism and died of an internal tumor - and was buried on July 2, 1889. Father married to widow Katherina Harms, and it went well with them. Of his first marriage he had eight children who outlived him.

in Marion County, Kansas. Their children make the II. Generation. — They are the following:

Johann F. Duerksen, born July 25, 1863 in Alefandertal, Russia. (and died May 1, 1932). My village school teacher was Heinrich Ulrich, a good teacher, but who also understood to make good use of the rod. Already at that time, I made up my mind, that when I would be a teacher, I would not want to swing the rod so severely. After finishing the village school, I learned to grind in father's mill; but soon I was permitted to go to the Central School in Gnadenfeld. My teachers were Herman Lenzman, Abraham Braun and teacher Hausknecht and Popow Kolb. From this Central School I was permitted to go to Central School in Halbstadt, and after that entered in the Pedagogical department. I graduated in May, 1885 and became teacher in Andreasfeld. In May, 1887, I moved to America to my parents, went somewhat to the district school and then in Salina and McPherson and taught 1889-1890 in the church school at Bukler and 1898 to 1905 in the German department in McPherson College; finally I was widower 1916 to September 28, 1924, and on this date wedding with widow Gertrude Warkentin born Kroecker and have been happy after the years of my loneliness. In the year 1893 I was made a preacher in the Memorial Brethren dearly adhered until her end. She was grown up when she came from Prussia to Russia. She went to the Snadenfeld Mennonite Church out of love for our grandfather, and she made her way to the fellowship since their wedding. Grandfather Peter Funk had two brothers -- Paul Funk, who made his very difficult way through life, and Heinrich Funk, who also was called Bart Funk (or Beard Funk), who occasionally expressed very amusing opinions concerning matters of faith which were expressed. Apparently his son David Funk is an Adventist preacher, if he is still living. Our grandmother was sickly and for a long time could not drive along (with them) to church every Sunday. She loved reading prayer books and a collection of gems. Our grandparents had 2 sons and four daughters. These are Heinrich Funk, Katherine Funk, Sara Funk, Anna Funk, Wilhelmina Funk. (10)

I in the College Hindergarten in McPherson School; and Corn Valley District School, and was supposed to study under me, but that me to naught. He didn't like books. He would much rather dash through the neighborhood and shoot skunks and wolves and muskrats, and work on the land. He was in Canada during the War and came home in approximately 1920.
He married Erna Harms, they had the wedding on June 5, 1921. They have three ^{little} children. He was

Dear Menno:

Here you have something of our family chronicle.
O, Menno: all kinds of people among our relatives
-- the well and sick, smart and dumb, honorable and culprits.

Oh, what a grace, whoever can keep the faith and rightly complete his race, and can through God's grace fight the good fight and reach Heaven. God stand by us, that we, saved from sin and preserved from sin might live for Him in time and eternity. The almighty bless ^{you} and make you a blessing in your doctor practice.

Respectful greetings to you, your old Uncle J. F. Querksew and Wife.
